Rules for Public in Aiding Airmen

Must Not Disturb Machine or Wreckage Other Than to Assist Aviator.

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, December 17.—Rules

aircraft board and made public to-

When a machine comes down the public is warned to keep away from it as soon as it is established that the aviator is uninjured and not to touch its controls or instruments.

Guards will be sent promptly from near-by military camps or posts when a machine falls or makes a forced landing. If no military guard is available, however, local police are requested to protect the machine.

When a machine falls out of control and is wrecked, the authorities are and is wrecked, the authorities are urged to see that no part of the wreckage is disturbed, except to the extent necessary to free the aviator. This is to allow an examination to determine the cause of the accident and avoid others.

With the weather forecast from Washington fair Tuesday and slowly rising temperature, it seems that Richmond and vicinity will soon be rid of others.

Railroads are requested to ask all employees to keep watch for aviators landing in isolated regions and furnish assistance. All trains or steamships are required to take on stranded aviaors and also to stop at whatever point the aviator may desire to leave the train or boat.

Lee Myers, colored, eighteen years old, was shot in the side and probably fatally wounded last night about 7:45 o'clock in the British-American Tobacco Company's yards by a colored man named Gould.

Myers was rushed to the Virginia Hospital and placed on the operating table, but it is not thought that he will live. In reply to inquiries Myers gave the name of the man who shot him, but exonerated him of all guilt by saying that they were playing and that he was shot accidentally. Its said that it was not Gould's fault. However, he refused to answer any

PROMPTLY ANSWERED

Services of Legal Advisers Found to Be of Great Assistance.

Five Per Cent of Those Registered and Arthur M. Cannon, at Richmond, to Get Their Questionnaires Each Day From Now Until January 10. Boards Need Clerical Help.

Reports from the five local boards of Richmond yesterday were to the effect that the work of handling the registrants, who came to the headquarters of the various boards desiring nformation in regard to filling out their questionnaires, ran along very smoothly considering the fact that it was the first day. Chairmen of the various exemption boards were loud in their praise of the work done by the legal advisory boards. Every exemption board chairman stated that the legal boards did excellent work.

Lawyers have been stationed at every exemption board office, and gladly will confer with the registrants and offer them legal advice in filling out their questionnaires. This information is given free of charge and by men who have given up their time in order to do some patriotic work for Uncle Sam. The first questionnaires did not reach the men until yesterday, and for that reason the work of the advisory boards was not as heavy as it will be when two or three instalments of the papers have been sent out. Registrants are asked to be careful in filling out their questionnaires and to answer all of the questions in full, as the law requires this of every man. The registrants also should take par-ticular pains to write a legible hand in order to facilitate matters and aid the advisory boards and exemption board in every manner possible. Legal Advisory Board No. 1 is in need of clerks and volunteer lawyers to assist in its work, and any patriotic citizens who desire to serve as clerk or attorney is requested to report at the office of Exemption Board No. 1 in the Richmond Grays' Armory. Some mem-ber of the advisory board will be pres-ent at the headquarters of the board. MAILING SCHEDULE
